Word Study for --- CREATION

A scenic view of a mountain range under a blue sky with scattered white clouds. The mountains in the foreground and middle ground are rugged and brownish-red, with patches of white snow clinging to their rocky slopes. In the far distance, more mountain peaks are visible against the horizon.

Mar 10:06 But from the beginning of the creation God made them male and female.

A close-up photograph of a dense thicket of bare branches, likely from a willow or similar tree. The branches are heavily coated in a thick layer of white frost or ice, reflecting light in various directions. The background is dark and out of focus, creating a stark contrast with the frozen branches in the foreground.

Mar 13:19 For in those days shall be affliction, such as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created unto this time, neither shall be.

Rom 01:20 For the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; so that they are without excuse:

Rom 08:22 For we know that the whole creation groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now.

2Pe 03:04 And saying, Where is the promise of his coming? for since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as [they were] from the beginning of the creation.

A wide-angle photograph of a serene ocean. The water is a deep, vibrant blue, with small, white-capped waves breaking near the shore. In the distance, a range of mountains or hills is visible against a clear, pale blue sky. The overall scene conveys a sense of tranquility and timelessness.

Rev 03:14 And unto the angel of the church of the Laodiceans write; These things saith the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of the creation of God;
