

Acts 17:30 And the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now commandeth all men every where to repent:

A close-up photograph of a bear's paw print in the snow. The paw print is clearly visible, showing the individual toes and the texture of the snow. The background is a dark, textured surface, possibly a wall or a piece of fabric, which makes the white snow stand out. The overall mood is somber and contemplative.
