

A close-up photograph of a yellow bird of paradise flower (Strelitzia reginae) against a green background. The flower's long, pointed bracts and stamens are clearly visible, with bright sunlight creating a strong glow and highlighting the texture of the petals. The text is overlaid on the upper left portion of the image.

Hosea 01:09 Then said God , Call his name Loammī: for ye are not my people, and I will not be your God .