

Psalm 132:13 For the LORD hath chosen Zion; he hath desired it for his habitation.

A close-up photograph of a bouquet of flowers. The bouquet features several bright pink roses in various stages of bloom, some fully open and others as buds. The roses are set against a dense background of green foliage, including long, thin, needle-like leaves and larger, darker green leaves. The lighting is soft, highlighting the texture of the petals and the vibrant colors of the flowers.
